Defence Construction Canada offers you a fast-paced environment working with a range of Canadian construction and consulting firms on diverse projects.

By providing a competitive salary range and the chance to do meaningful work in the fields of construction and infrastructure services, Defence Construction Canada (DCC) has attracted some of the best and brightest Canada has to offer. They recognize that a career at DCC means that you can move, learn, excel and engage in new and exciting challenges. In short, you can do it all.

You can rise to the challenge.

Applying what you know and getting the job done. Using your talents to solve problems and find better ways of doing business. That sums up how DCC works, and what we want from you. At DCC, you'll have the opportunity to engage with a variety of challenging projects at offices across Canada and around the world. You'll get to apply your education in the real world, and discover new applications for your work experience—in an atmosphere where it is valued. Every DCC employee has the chance to move laterally and build his or her own career path—and contribute to building our business while rising to personal and professional challenges.

You can benefit.

Choosing a career with DCC means choosing a fulfilling work environment and pushing yourself to new heights. It means being a valued team member whose contribution counts. And it means building your future while enjoying the security of a generous benefit program. DCC offers a competitive benefits package including medical and dental coverage, support for personal training and development, and a pension. More importantly, though, DCC promotes a work-life balance. Whether you're working hands-on at the job site, focusing on industry negotiations or coordinating business from the office, you're never just an employee—you're a person, first and foremost. So when you choose DCC, you can benefit immediately, and for a long time to come.

You can develop.

Recognizing and seizing opportunities is up to you. But it's easier in an environment that supports life-long training and development—an environment like the one at DCC. In an atmosphere where everyone is a professional, and treated as such, you'll have the freedom to grow and take advantage of opportunities for advancement. DCC is a service-oriented, entrepreneurial organization that promotes internal recruitment and rewards hard work. From engineers, technicians and technologists to trades people and administrative professionals, everyone has the chance to evolve and contribute to the growth of the corporation. And with a history—and a future—full of high profile, nationally and globally significant projects, you can develop as far as your enthusiasm and abilities take you.

You can make a difference.

A career at DCC is more than just a job. It's a chance to make a meaningful contribution to Canada and to the safety of Canadians. As a DCC employee, you'll become part of a Crown corporation with a solid history of accountability to Canadians and a record of dedicated, innovative service to the Department of National Defence. As a provider of construction, contract management and related infrastructure and environmental services, DCC takes pride in its work and delivers results that support the missions of our Canadian Forces. And that means you can do important work that makes a difference and contributes to the security of Canada, Canadians abroad—and the world as a whole.
